Project Self-Sufficiency assisted 166 single parents during the year ended December 31, 2016. Each program participant was matched with an advisor from the PS-S staff who helps with goal setting, career planning, problem solving, resource acquisition, access to further education, counseling, and job search for those who are ready. Expenses to provide these services included salaries and benefits for program staff and program management, as well as supplies, postage, printing, office space and other expenses related to program operations. Additional expenses related to program activities and resources that address barriers to self-sufficiency are included in the other categories below. See the annual program report bringthepower.org for further information. Look in the "About Us" section.

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 125,074 including grants of $ 93,822) (Revenue $)

The Cars for Families program provides donated vehicles to some families enrolled in the Project Self-Sufficiency program. Donated cars are safety inspected and often repairs are made. Car titles are transferred from the donors to the organization and then to the families who are selected to receive a car. Volunteer and donated car repair is also available to families. The values of donated vehicles during the twelve months ended December 31, 2016 totaled $60,537 is included as an expense in this section. PS-S shows this value as income as well since the cars are awarded to families and are not sold for operating income. Also included is the cost of repairs that could not be done by volunteers. These funds come from multiple assistance funds available through Project Self-Sufficiency.
